The Stomach of the Child

Is the Organ all Parents Should Protect Keep Normal.

The stomach of a child is the organ above all others upon which the future of the child depends. Its development is fast in children, and the nourishment necessary to meet such development is the most essential demand upon a parent.

Most children who are nervous, irritable and cross, who dream sleep restlessly, who are easily and have no desire for child exercise, generally have stomach trouble, indigestion and dyspepsia.

Most children who are nervous, irritable and cross, who dream sleep restlessly, who are easily and have no desire for child exercise, generally have stomach trouble, indigestion and dyspepsia.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are intended to thoroughly digest food and to place the system in shape to obtain all the nourishment it needs from such food.

These tablets mix with the juices of the system, digesting and giving to the body the ingredients necessary to build up the rapidly forming brain and body of the young.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets should be given to children after each meal and at bed time. They are made from pure vegetable and fruit essences, and contain no harmful chemicals whatever.

The use of these tablets will give greater vim to a child in its school work or at its play. They will produce appetite and soothe nerves, destroy abnormal cravings and will allow the bad effects of sweets and such improper foods as most children enjoy and will eat, no matter what is done to prevent it.

It is due the child that his stomach be protected by the parent, and if Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are given after meals, the habits of the child will not tear down the stomach and destroy the digestive system.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are given to each and every degree of life. Any condition of the stomach welcomes them from the strongest to the weakest. For sale by all druggists, price 50 cents. Send your name and address to-day and people will mail you at once a trial package free. Address: E. A. Stuart & Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

SENATE DEFEATS LOCKHART'S BILL

Its Author Makes Gallant Fight, but Odds Against Him Are Heavy.

SUBSTITUTE IS PASSED

It Will Be "Teeth" of Anti-Trust Legislation Now in Effect.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

RALEIGH, N. C., February 25.—With the unlikely number of thirteen votes cast in its favor to thirty-three against it, sub-section "A" of the anti-trust bill went down in defeat this afternoon in the State Senate, after the biggest argumentative contest that has characterized this session of the Assembly.

One not inferior to that of the famous contest in the 1907 Legislature, when, under the leadership of Hon. Ruden Reid, of Rockingham, sub-section "A" was expunged from the anti-trust measure on the narrow margin of one vote.

The argument for Lockhart's sub-section "A" bill was rounded up to-day by Senators Dockery and Lockhart, the latter laying the final shot at the situation before the previous question was called, while Senator Manning and Senator Bassett argued for the Blow-Bassett substitute, which passed the Senate by the same vote that sounded the death-knell of sub-section "A."

No strikingly new points were made on either side during the speech-making. There was a manifest haste to be done with it and get to two votes, which was generally expected to be more evenly divided than it proved to be.

An analysis of the vote shows that more than half the strength of the Lockhart bill in the Senate was actually represented in the Senate committee that reported it unfavorably.

The vital difference in the Lockhart

The Senate passed on final reading the general educational bill trying machinery for a special tax in all counties with increased State appropriations for maintaining a four months' school in every school district in the State. It set as a special order for to-morrow the other general education bill carrying an "omnibus" load of general and special changes of the existing laws.

The calendar was cleared of a great number of local bills, there being, however, the usual instalment of new bills. These will be cut off now before many days.

The House passed the bill carrying $500,000 bonds for carrying out the provisions of the Blicket act of 1907 for the enlargement of the State hospitals for the insane, there being only twelve votes against it. The House cleared the calendar of a great number of local bills during the afternoon.

WHY NAPOLEON FELL

Lecturer at Richmond College Ascribes New Cause to Defeat at Waterloo.

In the public hall of Richmond College last night Prof. W. S. McNeill, of the law faculty, delivered a lecture before a large audience of students, body and community on "The Psychology of Waterloo." The address was made especially clear by the use of blackboard sketches, showing the positions of the various armies on the days preceding the battle, the speaker holding that the annihilation of Napoleon's army was due not to the failure of his subordinate, or that the commander was no longer himself, as have been held by biographers, but that the French commander, Gneisenau, after being defeated on June 16, retreated not towards home and his base of supplies, in accordance with the accepted strategy of the times, but made his retreat towards Wellington's forces, giving the English commander a strength on which Napoleon had not counted.

The next of the faculty lectures will be delivered in the college hall on Thursday, March 11, by Prof. Dickey on "Linguistic Economy."
